19:04:05 From Sharon Baker To All Panelists : Hello from Chagrin Falls, OH!
19:04:06 From Sarah Robinson Schwartz : Hello from San Francisco
19:04:12 From jenny To All Panelists : Watching from Dunedin, New Zealand! :) :)
19:04:18 From hdaigle : Hi! from Quebec Canada!
19:04:20 From Jill Hoke : Join the book club! It's awesome!
19:04:30 From Kaitlyn Anderson : Hello from NoVA
19:04:35 From Cait Burgess : Hi from Manassas, VA
19:04:37 From Cathryn Lasky : I'm excited to talk to Kimmerly!
19:04:45 From Cathryn Lasky : I read The Queen of Hearts last year!
19:04:48 From dflack To All Panelists : Hello from Bellingham WA!
19:04:48 From B Gill : Hello from Lafayette, CA #fangirl
19:04:48 From Sandra McGee To All Panelists : Hello from Napa Valley, Calif.
19:04:51 From Megan Greening : I am book club lurker, but I LOVE it! I don't post online as much as I should, but the live events are awesome. :)
19:04:58 From Jenny : I read Queen of Hearts, too. Really enjoyed it.
19:05:02 From eileen slater To All Panelists : I read The Queen of Heart
19:05:14 From Susan Chapman : I saw Kimmerly in Carmel, IN 19:05:22 From MeganC : I checked out The Antidote for Everything right before my library closed. Lucky me! :)

19:05:23 From Ncaroline To All Panelists : Oooh a pink cover for the Popsugar reading challenge!

19:05:37 From staceyscherer : I'm a displaced Louisvillian too!

19:05:39 From Marla : I've read both books and both fun!

19:05:40 From Janelle Carlson : Queen of Hearts was fantastic

19:05:42 From Nicole : So excited to read this book! I put it on hold and have it waiting for me at my public library, whenever they open again. :(

19:05:49 From Amanda : I heard Kimmerly last year on the Best of Both Worlds podcast! Both books are great.

19:05:50 From Becky : I got the book online from the library and luckily that is still up and running

19:06:13 From David Kashangaki : I have your book Kimmerly and am looking forward to reading it soon!

19:06:23 From Janet : I bought an autographed copy of The Antidote for Everything at Carmichael's when I was at Anne's launch party. 😊

19:06:52 From Sshaw : Janet, I wish I had done that!!

19:07:15 From Ncaroline : Oooh a pink cover for the Popsugar Reading Challenge!

19:07:25 From eileen slater To All Panelists : I really liked it

19:07:26 From Janelle Carlson : Lucky, Janet!!

19:07:32 From Chelle : Loved Queen of Hearts!

19:07:37 From Paula : I read Queen of Hearts last year and really liked it!

19:07:49 From brianalee : Loved the settings of both books. Need more books set in these cities!

19:07:49 From eculatta : Can't wait to read that one! Read The Antidote for Everything last week – right before everything went down and it was fantastic. Now I can't focus on anything – so it was probably my last serious read for a minute!

19:07:54 From allysonwieland : I've read both Kimmerly's books and loved them.

19:08:02 From Sharon Baker To All Panelists : Also loved it! The characters were so equally easy and hard to root for!

19:08:07 From Rawles : Yea! Hello Kimmerly!! So excited to be here to talk about her books! TQOH was so good. Can't wait to read TAFE. Good – spoiler free, haha!

19:08:08 From Sarah Ferguson To All Panelists : Enjoyed Queen of Hearts!

19:08:10 From Becky : i'm only about a third of the way through ("essential" so still going to the office every day) but enjoying it so far

19:08:35 From Anne Bogel : Share your questions using the Q&A feature anytime and we will ask Kimmerly as many as we can in a bit.

19:08:51 From Sarah Ferguson : Enjoyed Queen of Hearts and this new book is on my TBR

19:09:07 From Janelle Carlson : Yes!!! Background info

19:09:46 From sekjvk : Will have to buy online since our library doesn't have this, and is closed anyway! Hope to get it soon.

19:10:23 From readerreet : does your library have Cloud or hoopla!

19:10:31 From Jenny : Thank you for doing that!
19:10:51 From Danielle : That is such a noble pursuit.
19:11:10 From Megan Greening : Wow! Thank you for your service! Our health workers are so important – always, but especially now
19:11:15 From readerreet : thanks for being willing to practice medicine in this crazy time.
19:11:24 From Ann Lee To All Panelists : Thank you for the what you do! I'm in the medical profession as well.
19:11:40 From Anne Bogel : If you don't know Kimmerly's blog I highly recommend you check it out. She's a devoted reader and shares book recs all the time: <https://www.kimmerymartin.com/blog>
19:12:28 From eculatta : Oh my goodness!
19:13:01 From Ginger Horton : Don't forget to change your chat To: All Panelists AND Attendees.
19:13:07 From Jenny : That cover!
19:13:10 From Cathryn Lasky : I love he covers on her books. They're so pretty!
19:13:13 From Rawles : These covers are so gorgeous!!
19:13:25 From Cathryn Lasky : @Rawles great minds!
19:13:34 From Janelle Carlson : I love that niche!
19:13:47 From Sharon Baker To All Panelists : I LOVE that! Good for the you to require female protagonist as a doctor.
19:13:50 From Marla : I love Jonah
19:13:52 From Rawles : ;-) Cathryn!
19:13:53 From Janet : I do too Janelle!
19:14:10 From Marla : Such a great character
19:14:18 From Kaitlin Moye : ❤️ Charleston!
19:14:37 From Rawles : Your books really ARE about Friendship. Love it.
19:15:42 From julie : I'm really enjoying your description of the story!
19:15:52 From heather To All Panelists : one of my favorite things about Kimmerly's books is her character development! I fall in love with them!
19:16:03 From carolecornell : I can't wait to read this book!
19:16:18 From Cathryn Lasky : Oh wow, that's quite an intro... I love it!
19:16:23 From michelledonovan : Wow! This sounds so good. Can't wait to read it
19:16:25 From Ginger Horton : Don't forget to change your chat To: All Panelists AND Attendees.
19:16:35 From Donna Hetchler : That sounds so interesting! Just ordered it :)
19:16:37 From Renee : I read it in a weekend – it really sucked me in!
19:16:48 From eculatta : I LOVE this topic/area! Soooo interesting
19:16:50 From Anne Bogel : Kimmerly is interested in how medical care intersects with legal, political, and cultural realities. If you've read her books you understand what that looks like on the page.
19:17:13 From heather : one of my favorite things about Kimmerly's books is her character development! I fall in love with them!

19:17:14 From readerreet : I just downloaded it! but I'm also reading becoming mrs Lewis from Monday and of course I'm reading Anne's book which I love.

19:17:25 From Sarah Robinson Schwartz : Such a topical issue... especially as hospitals are starting to face the issue of running out of beds/ventilators and have to choose which patients get them

19:17:26 From Marla : I was totally surprised by these facts

19:17:29 From eculatta : Such an important topic to shine light on!

19:17:42 From Marla : Especially to find out medical care could be refused

19:17:45 From anna craig : As a physician, yes yes yes! So glad she is writing about this!

19:17:46 From brianalee : I absolutely loved how you managed to weave such important LGBTQ+ issues into the book.

19:18:00 From Danielle : Wow. I was ignorant to these facts.

19:18:02 From Janelle Carlson : This is SO REVELANT to everything going on around the world right now...deciding medical care as we run short on respirators, etc

19:19:09 From Sharon Baker : My lawyer husband is calling from the couch that you'd be surprised. You can fire someone for being gay in 40+ states.

19:19:32 From Cathryn Lasky : @Sharon that's horrible...

19:19:32 From eculatta : Such a beautifully portrayed friendship!

19:19:41 From Janelle Carlson : Oh Sharon, I had no idea!! Unacceptable.

19:19:45 From Shawn Hayden To All Panelists : outrageous in this day and age!

19:19:48 From Roxanne : Wow!! had no idea that Doctors could actually be fired

19:19:54 From Sharon Baker : @Cathryn, totally agree! I was shocked by that too.

19:20:14 From readerreet : that's so sad. my amazing daughter is an army PT, has a wife and is a blessing to the world.

19:20:27 From eculatta : LOL

19:20:35 From brianalee : That scene in Amsterdam was SO funny.

19:20:37 From David Kashangaki : thanks for answering question on where your inspiration comes from.

19:20:40 From Janelle Carlson : Funny... if mom is watching

19:20:59 From Chelle : I love how real, honest, and multifaceted the characters in the books are.

19:21:01 From eculatta : Big difference! Opposite approaches...

19:21:10 From Cathryn Lasky : Ooh, I love Kimmerly's mug!

19:21:11 From Marla : Oh good to know!!!! So excited

19:21:22 From Sarah Robinson Schwartz : hahaha

19:21:22 From mossjen : Whoa

19:21:25 From Janelle Carlson : Whoa.

19:21:26 From Nicole : Yay for a sneak peek on the next book!

19:21:39 From Lynda : oh my!

19:21:44 From eculatta : OMG how relevant!

19:21:45 From David Kashangaki : wow!

19:21:55 From Mary Ellen : How unbelievable that you are already writing what is happening

19:21:55 From MeganC : Are you going to have to revise this due to COVID?

19:22:11 From Sharon Baker : Ooh, @MeganC, great question!

19:22:11 From Rawles : Crystal ball!!! Crazy. We will still read it!!

19:22:14 From JuliaPR : Wow, that is really coincidentally frightening!

19:22:17 From eculatta : YES!

19:22:27 From Jenny : Very interesting!

19:22:31 From sekjvk : Personally I'd love to read it.

19:22:33 From Shawn Hayden To All Panelists : Wow, you now have a lot of current day research!!

19:22:34 From Jen Wheeler : I would read it

19:22:39 From eculatta : Can you make it about COVID specifically? I feel like we're all so fascinated by this...

19:22:40 From Marla : My vote is a tweak

19:22:41 From susan : I would read it!

19:22:43 From Janelle Carlson : That would be fascinating

19:22:45 From Sharon Baker : I would be very into it!

19:22:47 From eculatta : Yeah stick with a pandemic!

19:22:48 From Lara Bulger : This is so cool hearing from an author at this point in the process!

19:22:48 From Clarissa Pilgrim : It sounds really good. I would love to read it!!

19:22:52 From Cathryn Lasky : Yes, I would love to read that new concept book!

19:22:54 From Kaitlin Moye : love the tweak!

19:22:57 From Donna Hetchler : i love the multiple viewpoint idea

19:22:58 From Joanne Aguglia : I don't think I could, too close

19:22:58 From Anne Bogel : Kimmery would love to hear what you think: would you be interested in reading a book about the difficult choices brought on by a pandemic, considering our current coronavirus situation?

19:22:58 From Janean : I like the multiple perspectives better than Sophie's Choice slant

19:22:59 From Mary Ellen : I'm not sure - right now I'm ready to take a break from the topic.

19:23:00 From Megan Greening : I would read it!

19:23:03 From Janelle Carlson : Raises hand!

19:23:04 From Justin Martin : I don't know if I could read it as a mom. But amazing, amazing premise.

19:23:08 From eculatta : S000 great!

19:23:08 From janna : I would love that book!

19:23:11 From bookreadergal : I would stay away from the 2 children storyline

19:23:11 From Renee To All Panelists : If you write it, I will read it. The multiple viewpoints does sound fascinating too. I'm a big virology nerd.

19:23:12 From Jennifer Erickson : Can you please read a selection from "Amsterdam?"

19:23:30 From brianalee : I hope you do publish that premise. It sounds fascinating.

19:23:31 From Karla Osorno : Yes!

19:23:32 From Jenny : Yes!

19:23:34 From eculatta : Yeah, I couldn't read the Sophie's Choice part of it.... but I absolutely want the pandemic part!

19:23:43 From Karla Osorno : stick with your story. we want to read it.

19:23:43 From Danielle : I don't think I could read it. 🙄

19:23:48 From Chelle : I might agree with the editor, the personalization of children may be too close to home.

19:23:50 From MrsD : Are these books a series?

19:23:53 From janna : I like the 2 children story story line. I'm a mom of 4 and that interest me a lot. I love hard topics.

19:23:56 From eculatta : Would be fascinated by the pandemic part - but yeah, no kids....

19:24:00 From christine mcMahon To All Panelists : I want to read it

19:24:01 From Joan Flynn : I could not read anything about a pandemic!!!

19:24:03 From eculatta : I mean sophie's choice style ahh

19:24:04 From Janean : Poll?

19:24:07 From Ash R To All Panelists : Both ideas sound good.

19:24:14 From julie : Consider how popular the movie Contagion has become!

19:24:19 From Mary Ellen : Y'allers! LOVE

19:24:21 From MaryBeth : I like the multiple viewpoints story

19:24:22 From Jenny : Y'all is such a useful word!

19:24:24 From eculatta : And the world can CHANGE

19:24:27 From Heather Robertson : I like the idea of multiple points of view about the same issue....

19:24:29 From Becky : i'd be more attracted to the multiple point of view vs. the choosing between 2 kids

19:24:29 From ljmiller To All Panelists : I would definitely read the Sophie's choice book.

19:24:29 From Sarah Robinson Schwartz : I like the 3rd book as is but I understand the editors point of view

19:24:29 From Ginger Horton : If you have a question for Kimmerly, put those in the Q & A portion.

19:24:31 From mossjen : It's hard to imagine our thoughts on this in a year

19:24:32 From Shawn Hayden To All Panelists : Queen of Hearts is the first of 3?

19:24:33 From Sharalynne Pasztor : By the time this is over I won't want anything to do with a pandemic

19:24:34 From Violeta To All Panelists : Yes to the pandemic and the multiple pov of female physicians...I don't know if I could read the version with the kids

19:24:42 From Rawles : No spoilers, but if anyone dies in the book, maybe rethink that. Even ten years later people still did not want to read about a 9-11 type attack....

19:24:50 From Violeta To All Panelists : Reading it now

19:24:52 From eculatta : And lo and behold....

19:24:53 From Janean To All Panelists : Should be do a poll for her? Keep Sophie's choice plot or do the multiple doctor perspective tweaks?

19:25:00 From readerreet To All Panelists : well you were right.

19:25:04 From julie : For a lay person, I would be very interested in reading a fiction novel written by a physician that tackles the virus.

19:25:10 From sekjvk : I know timelines are long and this is a coincidence with actual pandemic, but I love books that are highly researched and not based on fluff.

19:25:12 From eculatta : Oh my obviously

19:25:27 From eculatta : Yeah, from her perspective, I would trust her to guide us through it and learn stuff along the way

19:25:32 From Han : Polio: An American History by David Oshinsky is a great book as well

19:25:42 From Janelle Carlson : Sekjvk - I do too

19:25:57 From mwilson : There is going to be another pandemic. it is inevitable.

19:26:11 From MaryBeth : Grappling with the tension between science/ medicine vs the politics/those with political views that conflict with the science, and how the doctor(s) confront that would be interesting

19:26:14 From Susan in TX : Michelle, you're here! How are you doing?

19:26:17 From Sarah Ferguson : By the time it comes out, we might be ready to read it.

19:26:31 From Janean To All Panelists : Michelle, so good to see you!

19:26:48 From Mary Ellen : Good point @ Sarah

19:27:09 From MrsD : I know my bestie would LOVE to read a pandemic book. Especially a well researched one by a doctor. Contrarily I wouldn't be able to. Because I got anxiety just thinking about the mom having to make that choice.

19:27:15 From mwilson : We are behind medically but our current experience shows that we are culturally behind.

19:27:23 From Anne Bogel : Please use the Q&A feature to send questions for Kimmerly our way!

19:27:40 From janna : Kimmerly, your are such a gem. Can't wait to read your books.

19:28:03 From Janelle Carlson : Yes, Michelle Wilson :(

19:28:16 From Marla : I was a college nanny too

19:28:20 From Chelle : serendipity indeed!

19:28:28 From Karla Osorno : Agree Janna. Kimmerly is delightful!

19:28:34 From readerreet To All Panelists : I love the way things work.

19:29:49 From Mary L Wachsmith : Did you ever have to handle the emergency in the allergy practice? Or was it just sitting there all year.

19:29:55 From Roxanne : I would love for her to be my Doctor.

19:30:14 From cantrell.elizabeth : honesty is refreshing
19:30:25 From eculatta : You hit a great tone – I'm more disgusted by human behavior in the books than the medical details!
19:31:02 From Renee : @eculatta – I was just thinking the same thing!
19:31:04 From anna craig : PMG!! Yes!
19:31:37 From Janelle Carlson : That's so true about the swearing! :) I worked in a hospital for many years & can attest to this. Lol!
19:31:39 From Cathryn Lasky : I love my female urologist Dr. Martha Boone!
19:31:53 From mwilson : Having had 10 pregnancies, I need my urologist!
19:32:18 From eculatta : Take your time!
19:32:21 From Janean To All Panelists : Oh Michelle
19:32:23 From Janelle Carlson : @mwilson !!!!!
19:32:49 From Renee : The most gorgeous covers!
19:33:03 From Mary Ellen : Love hearing bout the cover!!!
19:33:10 From susan : I adore the cover for QUEEN OF HEARTS
19:33:24 From Karla Osorno : that's hysterical
19:33:31 From Donna Hetchler : That's a lot of flowers...hilarious
19:33:55 From Laura W To All Panelists : sorry if this has been answered already.....been listening so might have missed....Is there a bookstore that carries signed copies of her book that will ship?
19:34:17 From Ginger Horton : Yes, Laura... let me get those links for you!
19:34:29 From Jennifer Erickson : YES!!!! Endocrinology would be fascinating!
19:34:39 From Ginger Horton : Park Road is Kimmerly's local store: <https://www.parkroadbooks.com>
19:34:51 From MaryBeth : I love that she plants glimpses of future main characters in her earlier books
19:35:06 From Ginger Horton : And Carmichael's is Anne's: <https://www.carmichaelsbookstore.com> and we believe they both are open and have signed copies.
19:35:28 From Shavon Frankhouser To All Panelists : infertile ob/gyn has to be tough; a double whammy! But modern medicine still helps them too!
19:35:29 From mossjen : The more you know...
19:35:44 From Laura W To All Panelists : thank you!
19:35:45 From Karla Osorno : Love Bill Bryson!
19:35:49 From Becky : I listened to the audiobook of The Body
19:35:53 From Marilyn : Oh, I see it now. Those are the flowers we have always call "penis on a platter!" They are on the dining tables of every cruise we have ever taken. It has become a real anticipatory joke.
19:35:55 From Teri : Yes @Jennifer! Endocrinology – fascinating and everyone could relate, I think.
19:35:56 From Donna Hetchler : I just finished The Body–it was fascinating.
19:36:06 From Rawles : Park Road Books is the BEST! And yes would love to read more about Hannah!

19:36:08 From MaryBeth : what a compliment – he can't write a boring sentence!

19:36:10 From Carol Q To All Panelists : loved the audio of The Body!

19:36:12 From Ginger Horton : If you don't have a local indie you prefer, you can order through Bookshop, which supports Indies:
<https://bookshop.org/a/1047/9781984802835>

19:36:15 From Lainey Cameron : oh I love Bill Bryson. Next read here!

19:36:18 From Jessica To All Panelists : yes! I loved that book and being a nurse I was happy with how factual it really was.

19:36:23 From Shawn Hayden To All Panelists : wonderful author with diversified topics! He also is hilarious!

19:36:26 From eculatta : Yeah, gosh –about to write about a pandemic and then.... WHOA

19:36:34 From Anne Bogel : Kimmery believes Carmichael's Bookstore in Louisville has signed copies of The Antidote for Everything. Her's the link, please specify "signed copy" in your order's comments. <https://www.carmichaelsbookstore.com/book/9781984802835>

19:37:29 From Jenny : Loved that bok!

19:37:33 From eculatta : Yes!

19:37:38 From Mary Ellen : Can some one write that title down here

19:37:55 From Anne Bogel : Or to order from Carmichael's you can do it the old-fashioned way and call 502-896-6950. (They're my local store so I know these things 😊)

19:38:01 From Anne Bogel : The Great Influenza

19:38:04 From Anne Bogel : As Bright as Heaven

19:38:19 From Mary Ellen : Thanks ANne

19:38:29 From sarahsal : My mother was born during the 1918 Pandemic. She is 102 and very healthy.

19:38:55 From mwilson : The Great Influenza is one of those works of NF that all should read

19:39:01 From Ginger Horton : Looks like As Bright As Heaven is out of stock on Bookshop. Here's another link: <https://amzn.to/2WL0D5z>

19:39:02 From MaryBeth : Yes – I was just thinking of that Downton Abbey scene as Kimmery was describing it!

19:39:06 From Mary Ann Christman : I loved As Bright as Heaven

19:39:17 From Jenny : I just placed a hold on The Great Influenza. I will get it eventually!

19:40:37 From Cathryn Lasky : That's awesome, I'd never heard of a sensitivity reader!

19:40:42 From AppleTree Institute : My library just bought more copies of The Great Influenza (even though they've been closed for two weeks) – hopefully will get it soon

19:40:49 From Lara Bulger : This is so cool/important to hear about

19:40:49 From Becky : sensitivity reader is new to me too

19:40:54 From readerreet To All Panelists : I think that's valid but you are a female doctor.

19:41:16 From MrsD : Having a sensitivity reader is so brilliant. I didn't know that existed!

19:41:27 From Becky : the way she describes it makes it sound practical and not just politically correct

19:41:52 From Ginger Horton : Don't forget to change your chat To: All Panelists AND Attendees, and if you have any additional questions, use the Q & A feature to send those our way!

19:42:21 From Jenn : On the topic of sensitivity, it's best to not say "Spanish Flu" in relation to 1918 pandemic, just as we would not say "Chinese Virus" regarding today's :)

19:42:31 From mwilson : Apparently the LGBTQ community are gracious and willing to work wit others.

19:42:52 From Anne Bogel : Jenn you're so right, I realized that as it flew out of my mouth. Thank you.

19:43:23 From MrsD : Well, @Jenn, so what is it called? Like does it have another name? I am ignorant about all this.

19:43:37 From Renee : It is actually thought to have originated in Kansas.

19:43:39 From Susan in TX : Jean, we also had an outbreak in the late 1950's that was called the "Asian Flu" - don't know what its other name is, and wasn't aware of it until last week. I think they were named just from where they initiated?

19:44:29 From Jenn : You can just call it "The Flu" or "1918 Flu". Spanish people did not appreciate this name at the time, just as Chinese people do not today.

19:44:32 From Carol Q To All Panelists : Agree-it makes people more connected, not less connected.

19:44:36 From Renee To All Panelists : It was a strain of H1N1 influenza.

19:44:50 From Heather Robertson : I love medical stories in books! Another book recommendation, although published in 1949, is the story of Ignatz Semmelweiss and here is the link if it interests you:

19:44:53 From eculatta : Oh good call - I heard it was first widely spoken about in Spain because they were still politically neutral. Other countries were hiding their cases strategically but Spain widely publicized its cases.

19:44:58 From Kaitlin Moyer : thanks, Jenn! very helpful

19:45:03 From Anne Bogel : Here's where you can see those beautiful Queen of Hearts photos from around the world: <https://www.instagram.com/explore/tags/travelwiththequeen/>

19:45:16 From MrsD : Thank you, Jean. Thats very helpful!

19:45:31 From Carol Q To All Panelists : Thankful for technology now. How much more isolated we would be right now.

19:45:48 From eculatta : Gasp! A male protagonist! Haha, do it for #4!

19:45:57 From Sarah Robinson Schwartz : I was a nerdy sciencey book that is well informed!!!

19:45:57 From Sarah Ferguson : I'm all for a sciencey book

19:46:05 From eculatta : Oooh yes! Do it next next!

19:46:12 From Mary Ellen : I bet it would be well received and expand your audience

19:46:16 From cantrell.elizabeth : sounds interesting

19:46:27 From Kim Spivey : That book sounds FAB. Please finish it!
19:46:31 From MrsD : YES! Write that book! It sounds interesting and I bet my hubby would love it too!
19:46:32 From MaryBeth : book #4 sounds fantastic! (though I do love the strong female protagonists)
19:48:20 From eculatta : Plotter vs. Pantser, that's great!!
19:48:51 From Jenn : Plotter vs. Pantser is my new favorite phrase!
19:49:06 From Ginger Horton : <https://www.parkroadbooks.com/signed-stock>
19:49:06 From AllisonS : Jenn, mine too! I wrote it down
19:49:09 From eculatta : I'm from NC woo hoo!
19:49:10 From Rawles : Whoo hoo! Park Road Books is the best.
