11:08:10 From Shawntaye : Read Code Name Helene! Wear red lipstick! Drink French 75s. Get this book in your life!

11:08:29 From Mary Ellen : @shawntaye LOL

11:08:31 From Karyn : YES Shawntaye

11:08:39 From Janelle Carlson : Hi there Meg ;) )

11:08:48 From Laurie : mine is doing curbside pickup!

11:08:51 From Susan in TX : If you're concerned about "another war book," this is not that. This is a love story with a strong female lead that you wish lived next door.

11:08:53 From Molly : Oh @Shawntaye... I love the drink French 75s suggestion for an authentic experience :)

11:08:59 From Ginger Horton : <https://www.parnassusbooks.net/book/9780385544689>

11:09:14 From Susan in TX : Hi Janean!

11:09:20 From Anna Edwards : Ordered from my Local book store, so excited.

11:09:23 From S DeHaan : Ooh, I just asked this, thank you Ginger!!

11:09:28 From deb horgan : Best of Books in Edmond will drive the books to my house!

11:09:31 From allysonwieland : Met Ariel at Booktopia Asheville years ago. Loved hearing the background on "Wife, Maid & Mistress"

11:09:31 From Justin Martin : hey Janelle!!

11:09:37 From Danielle Hicks : Thank you for offering this book tour for all of us, Anne!

11:09:37 From Janean : Hi Susan 🙄

11:09:39 From Laura W To All Panelists : hi ginger.....any indies you can send us to with signed copies of any of Ariel's books?

11:09:39 From Charlotte : Shawntaye, I have added red lipstick to my shopping list and am research virgin French 75s (since I don't drink!). I want to embody Nancy Wake in every possible way

11:09:39 From Shawntaye : @Molly, if you love them, you should definitely read the book. :-)

11:09:44 From Laura W To All Panelists : scrap that 11:09:59 From Laura W To All Panelists : just heard her say will say at end
11:10:01 From Justin Martin : do you already have this one on order Janelle? I might go pick it up at King's English
11:10:05 From Ginger Horton : Parnassus has signed copies, Laura: <https://www.parnassusbooks.net/book/9780385544689>
11:10:10 From Justin Martin : I can get one for you on Tuesday!
11:10:15 From Molly : @Shawntaye ... I love ALL things French!
11:10:29 From Teri : Libraries here have been closed. : (
11:10:57 From KariS : Charlotte- You could totally do a virgin French 75.
11:11:12 From Heather Marinelli : libraries closed here in CA too. :(
11:11:21 From Charlotte : Kari, I will do my research. Because it does sound yummy. I love me some good citrus
11:11:29 From Anne Bogel To Ginger Horton(private) : parnassus does not have signed copies, can you correct please?
11:11:29 From JuliaPR : For those of us in more rural areas, or smaller cities (not near metropolitan areas) this is better than the "in person" Book Tour!
11:11:34 From Ginger Horton : Oh, wrong information, Parnassus does not have signed copies, but would still love your order and we'll tell you later how you can request a signed bookplate.
11:11:35 From Ginger Horton : <https://www.parnassusbooks.net/book/9780385544689>
11:11:36 From Janelle Carlson : No, I don't Meg. That would be awesome!!!!
11:11:47 From Janelle Carlson : I'll DM you when we're done
11:12:01 From Cathryn Lasky : Oh that's fun!
11:12:20 From Anne Bogel : Friends, libraries can still deliver audiobooks and ebooks electronically. And they can still add those digital resources to their collection right now, even if they're not currently in the catalog.
11:12:40 From MaryBeth : love uncovering stories of amazing women that have been lost to history!
11:12:56 From Lindsey Brackett : Hi Ariel and Anne! I loved Code Name Helene!
11:13:08 From Julie : Question - without spoilers, what decisions did you make when writing the book to make sure it doesn't read like just another WWII novel?
11:13:38 From Megan C : As a public librarian working from home, I second what Anne said. Most libraries are trying to beef up their electronic resources right now. Hoopla and Libby are great options.
11:13:46 From MaryBeth : Julie - yes, very interested in her response to your question!
11:13:47 From Mary Ellen : @Julie - ask that good question in the Q&A tab place
11:13:57 From Jenny : I can't wait to read this! Sounds great!
11:14:13 From MeganC : WHoa, there's another Megan C here? :)
11:14:25 From barbwoodsmall : buesno

11:14:26 From Ginger Horton : Use the Q&A feature to send questions for Ariel our way!

11:14:31 From Charlotte : Julie, I second this question, because it really doesn't really read like just another WWII novel. It's so good.

11:14:31 From JuliaPR : I love stories about strong, smart, resistance women!

11:14:37 From KariS : Julie- I added your question to Q&A

11:14:51 From barbwoodsmall : Hi from Las Cruces, NM

11:14:51 From Jenny : I have pulled out my headphones because too many spoilers! I like to go into a book virtually blind.

11:14:57 From Chelle : I've really noticed our library offerings being enhanced. I know they're working hard.

11:15:05 From S DeHaan : I love using Overdrive to use my local libraries e-resources. But this sounds like a book I need to order! Hooray for birthday money.

11:15:26 From Julie : I think I wrote my question in the right place now!

11:15:31 From Anna Edwards : We first read about her in my daughter's book "Goodnight Stories for Rebel Girls." I've been so excited to read your book because of this fantastic, short introduction

11:15:34 From Lindsey Brackett : It's the best novel I've read in six months!

11:15:43 From KariS : Charlotte- I agree. I read ALOT of WWII historical fiction and this feels better different. To me- its a story about Nancy Wake that happens to take place during WWII.

11:15:43 From Ginger Horton : Use the Q&A feature to send questions for Ariel our way!

11:15:44 From Danielle Hicks : Sold! I am buying this book now.

11:15:45 From Vanessa : Oh my goodness. this sounds amazing!!!

11:15:57 From KariS : Hi- not my question. But helping Julie :)

11:16:40 From Charlotte : This book really does read so fresh

11:17:03 From KariS : Julie- hope you don't mind me posting the question

11:17:29 From Lindsey Brackett : and it happens way before we think of the war happening here so to me it felt really different

11:17:47 From KariS To All Panelists : Not my question- it was from Julie. I just copied from chat because I'm a helper :) But glad it was asked none the less.

11:18:04 From Chelle : A lot of WW2 historical fiction, but Good stories, GOOD writing stands out, always will!

11:18:06 From Anne Bogel : Ah, thanks Kari! Zoom won't let panelists add questions to Q&A, so annoying 😊

11:19:08 From Nancy Willardn : just the fact that she has not been recognized makes me angry. hopefully her time will come with this book

11:19:26 From KariS : Lindsey- I agree. I read an ARC and it was easily a top 10 read of mine for 2019.

11:19:47 From Gina Beirne To All Panelists : Plotter and pantsers! This sounds familiar!

11:20:01 From Gabriella Saab : Team plotter!

11:20:16 From MaryBeth : Nancy's story is making me remember Virginia Hall's story (another amazing woman who did brave incredible things and faced discrimination and lack of recognition) during WWII - her story is told in An Woman of No Importance by Sonia Purnell

11:20:20 From courtney To All Panelists : I'm having lots of cut outs

11:20:21 From S DeHaan : "You're going to suffer either way"

11:20:35 From Justin Martin : yes, MaryBeth!!

11:20:39 From Chelle : plotter vs pantsers ;-)

11:20:41 From Justin Martin : I just finished that one.

11:20:43 From drtippy : just ordered from Parnassus

11:20:44 From Lindsey Brackett : Ah, yes, suffering on the back end for pantsers :)

11:21:00 From courtney : I'm having a lot of sound cutouts. anyone else?

11:21:00 From Ginger Horton : We'll be recording and sharing the replays here: <https://modernmrsdarcy.com/stay-at-home-book-tour-replays/>

11:21:08 From Lindsey Brackett : @Kari I read an ARC too! Such a gift.

11:21:22 From Lynda : I'm always a "pantsers"

11:21:39 From Sky : The Wife, The Maid and The Mistress is one of my favorite books! Made me a fan for life.

11:22:07 From Susan in TX : Courtney, the sound coming & going is most likely your wifi connection - not a Zoom issue

11:22:18 From Sky : Thank you Ginger! I wanted to ask that.

11:22:21 From Aubrey : I LOVED Flight of Dreams

11:22:31 From KariS : Courtney- try headphones. Sometimes that cuts down on the feedback.

11:22:42 From MaryBeth : Courtney - I am having minimal sound cut outs today, not bad. I had a worse issue earlier this week that I was able to fix by refreshing the screen.

11:22:45 From Carol Quan To All Panelists : Sounds wonderful! Going to purchase. Fits my Reading Challenge- book about a spy. 👍

11:23:06 From Bridget : Just ordered Ariel

11:23:07 From Susan in TX : Also, Courtney, I've found if I have wifi issues live, the replay is smooth, so you can get what you miss from the replay

11:23:51 From Anne Bogel : Y'all, the whole Zoom platform is TAXED right now with everyone working from home (and getting married, and hosting virtual happy hours) so bear with us on the sound quality. These are weird times. (And the replay ought to be smoother.)

11:24:00 From jtellison : That is the best scene...

11:24:06 From courtney To All Panelists : awesome thanks

11:24:08 From MaryBeth : Her explanation of how she uses fictional characters to develop/advance the story is fascinating!

11:24:22 From courtney To All Panelists : I mostly was just trying to figure out if it was just me

11:24:48 From Chelle : ohhh, I can't wait to read this!

11:25:10 From Carolyn Marsh : My Zoom is playing just fine here in Iowa. ;o)

11:30:42 From Lindsey Brackett : I think these are skills we could master during quarantine.

11:30:50 From Carolyn Marsh : LOL...@KariS me too!!!

11:30:51 From Vanessa : That's so amazing!

11:31:06 From Lynda : lol @Lindsey!

11:31:08 From S DeHaan : @Lindsey Brackett, you're making me laugh so hard!

11:31:09 From Charlotte : Kari, you could TOTALLY be Helene

11:31:10 From cantrell.elizabeth : Quarantine 101 skills!

11:31:17 From Susan in TX : I'm not a re-reader, but as soon as my finished copy comes, I'm going to reread this one

11:31:22 From Lindsey Brackett : I do what I can :)

11:31:32 From KariS : #lifegoals right Charlotte?

11:31:35 From KariS : Susan- same.

11:31:47 From Beth : I had to look up 'eggplant definition of romance' : )

11:31:48 From Molly : The true story seems fascinating on its own. I'm curious how you choose to fictionalize rather than write a non-fiction narrative?

11:31:55 From Janean : Homeschool curriculum. Ok kids: drinking, swearing and bike riding, here we go!

11:31:56 From Lindsey Brackett : this is such a great distraction from my concern that I had to go to the store today and didn't wipe down my groceries. I think Nancy would not have worried about it.

11:32:00 From mossjen : Beth - You probably just wrecked your Google search

11:32:11 From Lindsey Brackett : @Janean definitely

11:32:13 From Nancy Willardn : also loved the female friendship

11:32:19 From Susan in TX : If my girls are still quarantined here this summer, we're going to resurrect mother-daughter book club with Code Name Helene

11:32:53 From Lindsey Brackett : @Susan here for that!

11:32:53 From MaryBeth : Lindsey - I work with experts in global health who say, wipe down your groceries if it makes you feel better, but there is a very low risk for viable virus transmission - the big things to do are social distance & wash your hands!

11:32:54 From Ginger Horton : Use the Q&A feature to send questions for Ariel our way!

11:33:01 From Mrs. Karen : I'm so bummed I missed the first half of this discussion! But from the little I've heard already, this sounds like a book I totally want to read!!!

11:33:05 From Lindsey Brackett : Thanks @MaryBeth

11:33:16 From Lindsey Brackett : @Mrs. Karen you do. For sure.

11:33:17 From MaryBeth : thank you for asking my question, love hearing her thoughts on this!

11:33:24 From Sshaw To All Panelists : Molly, put your question on the Q & A :)

11:33:34 From Janelle Carlson : Powerful movie - Pvt Ryan

11:33:38 From Sky : @Mrs. Karen there will be replays!

11:33:45 From MaryBeth : Yes, it does!

11:33:47 From Nancy Willardn : @LindseyBrackett "Don't Overthink It"!
11:33:53 From Chelle : MaryBeth, I just read an article about that thisAM, saves me times and stress.
11:33:56 From Lindsey Brackett : @Nancy hahahahaha. For real.
11:34:02 From Mrs. Karen : @MaryBeth - thanks for sharing that!
11:34:08 From Tpogin : helps us remember their humanity. thanks for the perspective.
11:34:31 From Anne Bogel : Ariel's twitter thread about watching Saving Private Ryan is worth a read. It's right here: <https://twitter.com/ArielLawhon/status/1243015354391150592>
11:34:36 From jtellison : It made sense to me... :)
11:34:52 From Jenn : I love this imagery!
11:35:03 From Julie : I love your visuals!
11:35:06 From Lindsey Brackett : I read Anastasia recently. Just wow on that shape.
11:35:09 From MaryBeth : Love these images of her book structure - braid, locked box, double helix, circles!!!
11:35:16 From Lindsey Brackett : YES> I keep telling people this story is circular 11:35:22 From Gabriella Saab : Love that!
11:35:25 From Carolyn Marsh : wow...that's totally cool
11:35:29 From Janean To All Panelists : Ask Ariel about her backstory. That's what totally hooked me on her. 🥰
11:35:32 From Aubrey : I knew it! when you were describing the story it sounded like a circle to me.
11:35:33 From Susan Meissner : I LOVE the insights about finding the shape of the story!!
11:36:00 From Jenn : Now every story I read I am going to wonder if there is a shape.
11:36:10 From Susan in TX : Hearing how authors encourage one another has been one of the coolest things about Stay at Home Book Tour :)
11:36:29 From Janelle Carlson : Agreed, Susan
11:36:30 From Carolyn Marsh : Yes...love that authors encourage each other!
11:36:32 From Lynda : me too! @Jenn!
11:36:33 From Jenn : Susan, I agree!
11:36:43 From MaryBeth : Yes, @Jenn - going to be interesting to look for this in other books!
11:36:54 From Charlotte : I have really been loving the structure of the story.
11:37:02 From Ginger Horton : Several of you are just joining us, so welcome! Use the Q&A feature to send questions for Ariel our way! We'll be recording and sharing the replays here: <https://modernmrsdarcy.com/stay-at-home-book-tour-replays/>
11:37:10 From S DeHaan : This imagery is so cool. Now I can't wait to read all the books and look for their shapes!
11:37:25 From Lindsey Brackett : Now I'm going to re-read and analyze the structure. For fun :)
11:37:35 From Charlotte : What I love about Nancy is that she's a woman throughout all of the story. Being a warrior doesn't exclude her from still being a woman

11:37:43 From Lindsey Brackett : @Charlotte yes

11:37:55 From Lindsey Brackett : you don't have to lose femininity to be strong.

11:37:57 From Julie : I really like the image of Nancy as a warrior.

11:38:01 From KariS : Charlotte- yes! You can be both. I love it.

11:38:54 From MaryBeth : Taking options away = she does better - sounds like a lesson from Don't Overthink It!!!

11:38:56 From Sky : same with me! I feel more freedom with some boundaries.

11:38:57 From Lindsey Brackett : Limiting options-helpful for not overthinking :) for writers and you know, at the grocery store.

11:39:09 From Hillery Efke : @MaryBeth - exactly!

11:39:26 From Vanessa : Yes Lindsey! I was just thinking that exact thing 😊

11:39:33 From MaryBeth : :)

11:39:35 From Janelle Carlson : Particularly now, Lindsey! lol

11:39:58 From Sky : I'm reading Don't Overthink It right now and it's saving me!

11:39:59 From Lindsey Brackett : I bet this is why I always ground my stories in real places. Limited options. Ariel is helping me self-examine.

11:40:34 From Charlotte : Don't Overthink It is perfect for right now! (And frankly, always) Sky, were you at book tour on Wednesday? It was Anne talking all about her book!

11:40:39 From MaryBeth : love the idea about limited options sparking imagination/creativity as a response

11:40:57 From Lindsey Brackett : @Janelle we talking overthinking on my podcast last week and I talked about how the grocery store makes me crazy.

11:41:16 From MaryBeth : great question!

11:41:17 From Lindsey Brackett : oh i love this question

11:41:19 From Charlotte : AWESOME question

11:41:23 From Sky : Charlotte, I totally missed it. So bummed. That book found me at the perfect time.

11:41:25 From Hillery Efke : great question

11:41:38 From Charlotte : Sky, the replay is up on her site!

11:41:45 From Ginger Horton : Several of you are just joining us, so welcome! Use the Q&A feature to send questions for Ariel our way.

We'll be recording and sharing all the replays here: <https://modernmrsdarcy.com/stay-at-home-book-tour-replays/>

11:42:10 From Sky : Thank you Charlotte! Weekend booked!

11:42:11 From Chelle : @Sky, perfect book at the perfect time, love that!

11:42:13 From eculatta : Lol! Great question!

11:42:14 From Susan in TX : Camping is best done in a hotel...

11:42:19 From Lynda : I always wonder those things too when I read!

11:42:26 From MaryBeth : Susan in TX, agreed!!!

11:42:35 From Lindsey Brackett : I'm so glad I'm not the only one who wonders these practical things.

11:42:38 From Lynda : lol @Susan I Tx!
11:42:43 From mimimw To All Panelists : Susan I agree!!
11:42:45 From MeganC : @Lindsey, what is your podcast?

11:45:49 From dkgordon3@bellsouth.net : I love historical fiction! WWI and WWII novels mean a lot more during this time we are all in.

11:45:51 From Gabriella Saab : Omg hahaha that's awesome!

11:46:58 From jtellison : Ha! Probably did

11:47:03 From dkgordon3@bellsouth.net : Trying to find the right shade of red for skin tone was an issue for me in the past. I haven't tried to find a red lipstick since I've become a mom (over 21 years ago)

11:47:54 From Charlotte : I love Nancy's swears :D

11:47:59 From KariS : The cursing did not feel superfluous.

11:48:20 From Jenny : I appreciate that. Too many swear words start to grate on me as a reader.

11:48:40 From Charlotte : I also LOVE merde as a swear word. It's French, and it doesn't carry the same potential to offend others yet it still carries a bit of a punch

11:48:50 From Donna To All Panelists : Louise Penny feels the same?

11:48:56 From Vanishing Pearl To All Panelists : I can see Diane being offended, yes.

11:49:03 From Mrs. Karen : Swear words don't bother me in novels. But I did read one book once that had so much language, especially the F word and it just felt too much.

11:49:07 From Janean : Learning to swear in French was a delight.

11:49:29 From Lynda : I just learned that Charlotte, reading Louise Penny! had to look it up!

11:49:35 From Janelle Carlson : Charlotte – that’s what I always wonder. Trolls...

11:49:45 From Heather : @charlotte That's my question! Who has time for that?!

11:50:29 From KariS : Marybeth– Helene

11:51:06 From Charlotte : Marybeth, Helene is my favorite and I've read all of them

11:51:07 From MaryBeth : Thanks, Lindsey & Kari!!!!

11:51:07 From Cait : There are tons of Brit words that are swearish , acceptable to UK viewers, but if translated would be so offensive in the US. I also love merde, hope the censors never catch on...

11:51:09 From Sharalynne Pasztor : Love Louise Penny books!

11:51:11 From Vanishing Pearl To All Panelists : I feel that way about good design in art.
